

Privacy statement

In keeping with our purpose to foster community among parents and guardians of multiples, Eastside Mothers of Multiples (EMOMs) presumes that members are willing to share their personal information with others in its community, including both EMOMs and the Northwest Association of Mothers of Twins Clubs.

Upon joining EMOMs, members are asked to provide personal information, including but not limited to name, address, telephone number, and children's names and birthdates. This information is shared with our general membership and is to be used exclusively for the benefit of members to connect with one another. Use of personal information provided to the general membership for any external marketing purpose is strictly prohibited. Further, members agree that they will not sell or forward members' information to anyone outside of EMOMs for any reason unless the member whose information is being shared specifically authorizes the sharing of their personal information in advance. By joining EMOMs, members agree to the terms of this privacy statement. The membership of persons violating this policy will be permanently revoked.

We respect your right to privacy and will take every reasonable precaution to ensure that your information is not made available to others outside our community or used for any commercial purpose. However, we are not responsible if individual members violate the terms of this privacy statement. If EMOMs becomes aware of a violation of this policy, the membership of the offending person(s) will be permanently revoked.
